President Coolidge Defends War Department Order in Telegram to C. W. Bryan of Nebraska

DEPENDS ON LOCAL DESIRE

Military "Defense Test" Proposed for September 12 Assumes Startling Political Significance

(By United Press)

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 1—President Coolidge today denied that the war department planned for national defense day "contemplating a disruption of business in any way."

In a reply telegraphed to Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, the president defended the war department order.

"The people of the several states are expected to participate in accordance to such opportunity they may have for a patriotic demonstration," President Coolidge said.

"National Defense Day plans for the patriotic demonstration to be dependent on state and local desire and are intended to be purely voluntary," the president's message said.

Washington, Aug. 1—There is no doubt in the minds of party leaders today that the military "defense test" proposed for September 12 has assumed a startling political significance.

In taking a position squarely behind his running mate, Governor Bryan of Nebraska, regarding the mobilization of civilian and industrial units, John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, hurled the question into the campaign, leaders agree.

With that conviction they seek to gauge the extent to which the issue would have a bearing on the November elections. They see the possibility of a fierce controversy between the Republican and Democratic parties involving military preparedness on one hand and war-like demonstrations, calculated to disturb world peace, on the other.

Both President Coolidge and Mr. Davis are now on record on the issue. Senator La Follette, independent presidential candidate, has not expressed himself on the question, although he has always opposed anything smacking of militaristic movements.

With Davis' warm approval of Governor Bryan's stand, some Democratic leaders, believing they have the best end of the argument, were inclined today to carry the fight to the Republicans. They are contracting President Coolidge's rebuke of a pacifist group, in which he asserted that efforts to contrive defense day as a "mobilization" were "unfair" and the official instructions issued by the war department. ## HUNTING SEASON OPEN

Sportsmen Take Advantage of First Day to Shoot Squirrels

The hunting season got under full blast early this morning in Rush county, when scores of shooters took their guns and made their way at daylight for the woods.

The squirrel season was formerly opened today, and will remain open until December 1. The rabbit season also is open now, and has been since April 1, but sportsmen only try their luck at the young ones at this time of the year. The rabbit season will be in full swing in late October and November, and will close January 10. Hunting license have been selling good the past few days at the county clerk's office, and indications are for a busy season.

NO POLITICS IN IT, IS VIEW HERE

Few Hold to Belief That Political Fued Figured in Change of Postoffice Location

OWNERS SLOW IN BIDDING

D. M. Lollis Did not Have Plans When he Purchased Hotel, His Attorney Declares

Little stock is taken here in the story being circulated today, that politics entered into the acceptance of the bid of the Lollis Hotel Company to house the Rushville postoffice.

In some quarters it was being stated that removing the postoffice from the Masonic Temple, owned by the Masonic Temple association, in which Senator James E. Watson owns stock, might be credited to a political feud between Harry S. New, postmaster general, and Senator Watson.

A. L. Gary, attorney for D. M. Lollis, head of the company which purchased and is remodeling the Windsor hotel, where the postoffice will be located, was authority for the statement today that politics did not figure in the transaction and that Mr. Lollis had no idea of obtaining the postoffice when he purchased the hotel.

Mr. Gary asserted that Mr. Lollis had plans drawn to establish store rooms on the first floor of the hotel building, when he came here July 15 to take possession, and that he changed his plans when he discovered that the postoffice department was advertising for bids for a postoffice location.

The postoffice at Troy, Ohio, is in a hotel owned by the Lollis Hotel company, and with his previous experience, Mr. Lollis prepared a bid. The postoffice department first advertised for bids for postoffice quarters in Rushville in February. No bids being offered, the department again posted a notice in May. Still the Masonic Temple association did not make an attempt to get the lease renewed and a third attempt was made to get bids last month, with the present lease due to expire today.

Since there is no doubt about the removal of the postoffice from the Masonic Temple, many people were conjecturing about the use to which the room might be put. The suggestion was made that it be converted into a theatre and joined with the Princess, which would mean that the whole lower floor would be used for this purpose. It was suggested that four small store rooms could be placed in front, with ten feet of the frontage reserved for a lobby and theatre entrance.

Some people figured today that the Masonic Temple association had profited by losing the postoffice, since the expense of maintaining the postoffice room was figured at $2,400 a year and the rental was only $1,600.

VALUATIONS HERE STAND ACID TEST

Rush County One of Number Where no Increases in Assessments Were Ordered by State Board

RAISED IN 24 COUNTIES

Officers of Each Municipality Will be Notified of Appraisements to Make Tax Levies

Rush county's assessments for taxation purposes passed the acid test of the state board of tax commissioners and will stand unchanged. This was revealed today when it was announced by the tax board that assessments on personal property in twenty-four counties had been increased and in the remaining counties had been approved. Rush county was one of the number in which there was no increase.

The increases ranged from 5 to 33 per cent and affect assessments of automobiles, household goods, hogs, farm implements, cows, mules, horses, and poultry. Except in Owen and Henry counties the increases were county-wide. Most of the increases were made on automobiles.

From the total assessments compiled by the state tax board it was indicated that they will show an increase of $30,000,000 over those of last year.

County board of review will meet next Tuesday to approve or disapprove the action of the state commissioners in the equalization of county assessments.

Rush county's assessments will be certified to the county auditor, and the total valuation of all taxable property in each taxing unit of the county will be ascertained by the auditor. The law gives the auditor until the first day of September to issue to the officers of each municipality a certificate showing the net total appraisement for taxation.

The officers will then be in position to determine what their tax levies shall be. The budget law of 1921 requires the proper official of each municipal corporation shall publish a budget upon forms prescribed by the state board of accounts, "showing in detail the money proposed to be expended during the succeeding year, the valuation of all taxable property within the jurisdiction, and the rate of taxation which it is proposed to establish after a public hearing."

Ten days notice by publication of such budget, and of the time and place of hearing before the local officers, is required, the hearing must Continued on Page Six

American Legion Weekly Publishes Synopsis of Comments of Celebrities on Anniversary

GERMANS ARE PESSIMISTIC

Some Thinkers Among Allied Nations Believe Lasting Benefits Were Gained From the War

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 1—The tenth anniversary of the outbreak of the world war finds conflicting and in some instances extremely pessimistic views among world celebrities on the benefits to civilization from the struggle, according to a copyright synopsis published today by the American Legion Weekly.

The synopsis contains the views of a score of statesmen, soldiers, educators and publicists.

Former chieftains of the German military machine, which ten years ago today was sent marching through Belgium for the invasion of France, are unable to discover any gain to humanity from the great sacrifices of the conflict.

Some thinkers among the allied nations share the German pessimism, but for the most part they find that the world gained lasting benefits from the war to end wars.

"The only good the war did is to show that a nation is powerless unless it is well armed," said Frederick Wilhelm, former crown prince of Germany. "All nations are arming as hard as they can and a dictatorship of some form is the favorite idea."

From the secretary of Former Kaiser Wilhelm came the reply that "the world gained nothing, it lost everything." The statement was taken to represent very closely the views of the former war lord.

"The world was at last convinced that the balance of power theory is an unstable basis for world peace and that international cooperation is the only plan to be tried," declared Newton D. Baker, secretary of war in the Wilson cabinet.

General Pershing answered that the war prevented domination by autocracy and showed that free people will always unite to prevent such Continued on Page Six

YOUTHS PLANNED "PERFECT CRIME"

Dr. William A. White, Washington, D. C., Alienist, Testifies For Defense in Franks Murder Case

INTELLECTUAL FEAT, FLAN

Defense Scores Important Victory When Justice Caverly Admits Medical Testimony

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 1—The object of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb in killing Robert Franks was to commit the "perfect crime," Dr. William A. White of Washington, D. C., alienist, testified today at the judicial hearing of the two youthful slayers.

Dr. White said that Loeb told him that he and Leopold had discussed committing a murder long before Franks was killed and had considered various persons, including their parents, but they decided that to kill a member of the immediate family would hamper free movement.

"The real object in the murder was to commit a 'perfect crime,'" Dr. White testified. "The idea was for the master criminal to do a good job. There was to be thoroughly and completely planned and be the object for great concern in the immediate vicinity. There was to be no clue. An intellectual feat was to be accomplished."

Justice Caverly recessed for lunch at this time.

Before lunch and over the repeated objections of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, Dr. White sketched the dream life of Loeb. He described a succession of phantasies which he said existed in the mind of the youthful defendants.

"He looked upon himself," Dr. White said, "as a master criminal—the master criminal mind of the century—directing great bands of criminals in their underworld activities."

"He also thought himself a great detective. He plotted great crimes and then imagined himself as the detective unfolding the plot and capturing the criminals."

Dr. White also told how Loeb walked the streets, giving secret signs to his imaginary criminal band, directing what houses to rob.

Dr. White also pointed out that Loeb admitted being an inveterate liar, and he started lying at an early stage.

Court was called to order at 10:35. Without preliminaries, Walter Bachrach one of the defense attorneys, plunged into a mass of precedents to support the defense demand for the introduction of the medical testimony.

Bachrach brought out that in all the cases he cited, the diseased mentality was taken into consideration for "mitigation of punishment."

The defense scored an important victory—a victory that may save the youthful slayers from the gallows—when Chief Justice Caverly permitted the introduction of medical testimony by Chief Defense Attorney Darrow. Darrow holds the medical testimony will show the court the presence of evidence tending to "mitigate punishment."

Justice Caverly said that he felt it his duty to hear evidence in mitigation of punishment and in a few words summed up his stand, overruled the state's objections and ordered the defense to proceed.

Dr. Wm. A. White of Washington, a noted alienist connected with the United States public health service and other public institutions, then Continued on Page Six

KIWANIANS EAT, HEAR SPEECHES

Enjoy Meeting at Big Flatrock Christian Church Thursday Night With Good Fellowship Prevailing

S. L. TRABUE SPEAKS FOR CLUB

Mrs. Fanny Gowdy Mansfield Presents Picture of Her Great Grandfather, Who Founded Church

The spirit of good fellowship prevailed at Big Flatrock Christian church Thursday night when members of the club, their wives and other guests were present for a dinner in the basement, served by the women of the church, and a program afterwards in the main auditorium of the church.

The club has been making a regular custom of visiting the church every summer, at the height of the fried chicken season, and this year there were just ninety-nine visitors who once more were filled up on fried chicken and other good food.

For the program upstairs, Samuel L. Trabue spoke in behalf of the Kiwanis club and Elmer Hungerford represented the church congregation.

A pleasing feature was the presentation by Mrs. Fanny Gowdy Mansfield of a framed picture of her great grandfather, the Rev. Gabriel McDuffy, an itinerant minister who founded the Big Flatrock church. He was also the founder of the Arlington and Homer Christian churches and exerted a wide influence on the religious life of the community during his day.

The picture was accepted for the church by Mrs. Noah Trvon and will be hung in a prominent place in the auditorium.

Dr. P. H. Chadwick, vice president of the club, presided over the meeting and Will P. Jay, the president, provided some entertainment with several stories of a late vintage. Miss Florene Gronier sang two solos and was vigorously applauded.

Mr. Trabue commented on the presence of some members of the Rotary club, as guests of Kiwanians, chiding them for being obliged to come to a Kiwanis meeting to get a "square meal" and soak up some fellowship.

In having some fun at the expense of the Rotarians, Mr. Trabue led up to the thought that both the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs were engaged in the same enterprise—community improvement, and he emphasized that the community meant the whole county.

Mr. Trabue pictured the pleasant relations that had sprung up between the people of the Big Flatrock neighborhood and the people of Rushville and expressed the hope that the same conditions would prevail all over Rush county, would overlap into other counties.

AUTO LICENSE PLATES SELLING AT CUT RATES

Many Automobile Owners Take Advantage of Law Permitting Purchase at Half Price

BECOMES EFFECTIVE TODAY

Automobile license plates were reduced in price today throughout the state, as the last five months of the year the regular license fee is cut in two for the remainder of the year.

The local branch of the license department at the Triangle garage reported a big business today, as many owners had held off until today to buy their plates at the reduced fee. Of course in all cases, the applicants stated that they had "just bought the car," which would indicate a big business for one day in selling machines.

Most everyone who has bought a car within the past week or so, have operated on dealers' licenses in order to save the extra fee, and early today when the license office opened, the people began to come in, and take out the plates at the reduced rates.

The local office in charge of Charley Caldwell, has already received the 1925 plates, which are in storage at the garage, and will be ready for distribution about December 12, when released by the secretary of state.

"The inventive genius of the age," he said, "has emphasized the comforts and luxury of the material side of life until we have been lured from the primary human and spiritual values of life to the material values, and each day we search for new amusement and thrills only to find true happiness unattained."
 "We therefore come to feel that happiness is only a mirage in the desert continuously luring us on but never rewarding us with the joys of contentment."

"When we experience such feelings we should awaken to the fact that we are only chasing rainbows; that we will never be able to throw salt on the bird's tail and therefore never catch it until we change our bait; that we are doomed to the pessimist's hell unless and until we recognize that life's victories perch only upon the banners of those who stand for the great truths in the ordinary affairs of life, courageously performing the homely tasks with hopes born of high ideals."

"Man's rich and marvelous mind is equal to the inspiration of a magnificent World filled with splendid opportunity."

"Emerson has well said, 'Man, thou palace of sight and sound, carrying in thy senses the nights and mornings, the summers and winters, carrying in thy brain the Geometry of the city of God, in thy heart all the bow-ties of love and all the realms of right and wrong.'"

"In these days we are beginning to understand that human life is of infinitely greater value than material wealth; that service stands above self."

"Competition has taught us that we can only advance through co-operation and the success of every legitimate industry brings success to every other worthy enterprise. In like manner the failure of any business is injurious, to some extent at least, to

HOG PRICES STEADY ON INDIANAPOLIS MARKET

Traders Evidently Feel That the Reduction of $1.10 Thursday Was Enough For a While

ALL LIGHTS SELL AT $9.75

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 1.—Hog prices held steady on the Indianapolis livestock exchange today. Traders evidently felt that their reduction of $1.10 Thursday was enough for a while. The receipts totaled 7,000 with 4,526 porkers head over.

All lights sold at $9.75, pigs brought $6 to $9.25. Smooth packing sows sold at $8 to $8.25 while the roughs brought $7.75 to $8. Stags were quoted at $6 to $8. Light lights sold at $9.25 to $9.75.

Cattle moved at prices steady with Thursday's close. Thursday bidding was from 25 to 50c lower but, in the final hours, losses were recovered. Choice continues at $10.60. Heifers sold at $9.15, cows as high as $7 while medium and fair cattle continued drags. Receipts were estimated at 500.

The calf market was lower, there being no calves good enough to bring more than $10. The bulk of good veals brought $9 to $9.50. Estimated receipts 600.

Sheep and lambs were steady with sheep again moving roughly. Receipts 300. Choice lambs sold at $12.50 while sheep sold from $3.50 to $6.

NET GAIN IN WHEAT IS PUT AT $100,000,000

Department of Agriculture Says Price Increases Will Yield Farmers This Sum if Not More

CORN STANDS ARE SPOTTED

Washington, Aug. 1.—Net gain to the farmers from the recent wheat price increases will be nearer $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 than the $1,000,000,000 which has been estimated in some quarters, the department of agriculture said today.

Such an increase nevertheless, "bespeaks an ability to pay off debts and a general improvement in financial conditions in the wheat country," the statement said.

"On the other hand, the corn situation is by no means good," it continued. "Stands are extremely spotted. Many fields are full of weeds and much of the crop is so far behind that it will need something approaching a frostless fall to mature."

"The main significance of the corn situation lies in its effect on livestock production and prices during the coming year. Expensive corn this fall presumably will prolong the liquidation of breeding stock now in progress."

"The south," the statement said, "is considered to be going through critical stages now, but cotton bids fair to produce a larger and more evenly distributed income than last year."

"As no man lives unto himself alone so every business is dependent to a degree upon every other commercial enterprise. It is therefore manifest that the standards of social, business and professional life are of major importance."

Next Week at Princess

"Name the Man!", the first Victor Seastrom production since that director came to the Goldwyn studios from Sweden, opens Monday at the Princess theatre.

Included in the cast are Conrad Nagel, Mae Busch, aPtsy Ruth Miller, Hobart Bosworth, Creighton Hale, DeWitt C. Jennings, Evelyn Selbie and many other well-known players.

The story was adapted to the screen by Paul Bern, from the novel entitled, "The Master of Man," by Sir Hall Caine, and was Victor Seastrom's first production under a contract the Swedish director signed with the Goldwyn studios.

The entire story is set on the Isle of Man, and deals with the youthful Deemster, or judge of the island, and the trial of the girl whom he had wronged for the murder of her child.

The picture is declared one of the most dramatic and emotional ever filmed, and in it, Miss Busch and Mr. Nagel rise to their greatest emotional heights.

The picture was enthusiastically acclaimed by critics and public, and had long runs at large theatres in New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, San Francisco and other of the largest cities in the United States.

Campaign Issues

The major political parties, according to reports, have been casting about for a live campaign issue.

Late developments indicate that they have one and that it is so hot that they can't let loose of it.

President Coolidge proclaimed "Defense Day". The pacifist organizations condemned the idea and construed it as "Mobilization Day". The president rebuked the pacifists with the charge that it was unfair.

Gov. Bryan of Nebraska, democratic nominee for vice president, took issue with the president and J. W. Davis, his running mate, agreed. If that isn't the finest little way of making an issue, where's a better one.

One side says a general mobilization would be a war-like gesture and the other replies the idea is silly. And there you are.

Thrift in Public Education

The recent session of the National Education Association at Washington, D. C., emphasized the importance of thrift, teaching economy in school administration and introduction of universal saving systems.

Arthur H. Chamberlain, chairman of the National Committee on Thrift Education, advocates courses of study on these lines in the school systems of our country.

General introduction of school saving deposit systems, with millions of small depositors drawing interest; are taking up this matter on practical lines to counteract the tendency of children learning to spend money before they have acquired earning ability.

The morality and stability of character, to say nothing about individual honesty and saving habit, of the child can be conserved by such systems for the welfare and prosperity of the individual, the family and our country.

For Rural Schools

Friends of country children and believers in education generally are greatly heartened by the recent address of the President of the United States delivered before the National Education Association in Washington, D. C. Among other things, the President said that one of the chief rights of an American citizen is the right to an education that the country, which offers so many advantages denied to those reared on the pavements and among crowded buildings, ought no longer to be handicapped by poor school facilities. "The resources exist," said President Coolidge, "with which they can be provided if they are adequately marshalled and employed." This is the contention that friends of good schools for rural children have long been making. The endorsement of the President of the United States should bring us nearer to our goal.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

WASHINGTON—Callers at the White House during the past two weeks have learned that President Coolidge's taciturnity is not a pose.

Instead, it's an inheritance. John Coolidge, the president's father, who came to Washington for a visit with his son following the burial, at Plymouth, Vt., of Calvin Coolidge Jr., spent much of his time, during his two weeks' stay, over at the executive offices.

As the president's father, he was naturally introduced to all the callers of note. He took all such introductions graciously and listened with seeming interest to whatever the new acquaintances had to say, but beyond a "yes" or "no" in answer to direct queries he took no part in conversations. Ambitious reporters were unable to get even that much out of him.

DOG days in Washington is not good hunting weather.

At least that seems to be the conclusion of Frank Vanderlip, ex-banker and capitalist, who last spring opened the Citizen's Federal Research Bureau here for the avowed purpose of seeking out the shortcomings of public office holders in general to assist Senator Wheeler's investigation of the Department of Justice in particular.

Vanderlip has given up the big home he leased on Massachusetts avenue and has returned to his country place at Scarborough, N. Y.

The quarters of the research bureau, however, are still retained, as are a force of employees and investigators. All inquirers are told to "Ask Mr. Vanderlip."

WOMEN are not represented, even by proxy, in the administration of the state and treasury departments during the absence of Hughes and Secretary of State Mellon. For the acting heads of those two departments are bachelors. And, as if, acting in a sort of bachelors' alliance, they have taken quarters together for the summer.

Garrard Winston, who is Mellon's right-hand aid in fiscal affairs, is supervising Uncle Sam's income and expenses while Mellon is vacationing.

Leland Harrison, who started in the foreign service as a secretary at Tokyo in 1907, is doing the heavy diplomatic stuff for Hughes.

MRS. AMOS FRIES, wife of the chief of the chemical warfare service of the U. S. army, and Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president general of the D. A. R., fear that radical propaganda has turned the heads of American women and has caused their sympathies to run away with their good sense.

"Pacifist groups in America," they say, "have waxed strong because of their sentimental appeals to our women and our women's organizations."

In an appeal to "all right thinking peoples," they seek to set the women of this country on guard against "any individual or group of individuals who would substitute untried theories for our great institutions of government."

Although not so labeled, the Fries-Cook warning might be interpreted as an appeal to the women to look the other way when the La Follette-Wheeler campaigners come to town.

IN addition to her warning to women to beware the beguilements of the pacifist and radical, Mrs. Fries has phrased her patriotic creed in the following verses, entitled "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Slackers," which is being distributed through the Reserve Officers' Associations.

"I didn't raise my boy to be a Slackers. To lick the 'bloomin' boots' of those in power. But to fight for the right, and be fearless in the sight Of the high and mighty powers of the hour!"

Collars for Menfolk
Laundered into Style

Yes, a man's just as particular about a little kink in his collar as a woman is about the shade of her hat. And we make it our business to please particular men. We follow instructions when we launder collars.

We starch men's collars evenly, work the starch in thoroughly—when a collar is ironed it comes out smooth, without starch blisters, pliable, but with a firm body.

Then there's the knack of folding collars trimly and yet leaving space for the tie to slip through easily. And there's the shape of the collar to be considered—distinctive touches to be preserved.

These are little details, to be sure—but it's just such painstaking attention to detail that gives our work the tone that spells satisfaction.

Buy the collar you like best and look best in—don't worry about its not laundering properly, just send it to us.

BASEBALL VS. GOLF AND TENNIS

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 1—As they come down the back-stretch in the major league baseball races, it begins to look more than ever like the Giants and the Yanks for the world series. And my guess would make the Giants favorites in the big series.

A few weeks ago this column said the Yanks were fading fast, but would probably muster strength enough to pull out and win the 1924 pennant. It still looks that way. Naturally, there is an "if". That is the saving grace in baseball.

Huggins must have luck and comparative freedom from injuries if he gets under the wire ahead. He isn't getting much pitching, but the Yanks pack a terrific punch and the team is hitting again. But a blanket would cover the first four clubs, and Huggins knows that if the Yanks "stab" their toes, all seven of their competitors will "put the boots" to his noble athletes if they get three points down. And they'll chance a foul, at that.

So much for the Yanks, who, before the season began, were runaway favorites.

The poor old Giants! The experts, April 1, said John McGraw had only an old glove, his personal brains and a band of "has-beens and never-wases", fitted only for the old folks' home. They turned the Giants loose in the cellar and invited seven other clubs to go eat them up.

Well, the Giants are breezing along in front and look certain to cop. Cincinnati, picked by many to beat the Giants and be in the series, has failed. When Grover Alexander busted his wrist the Cubs had an awful blow. The Pirates pulled up, but they don't seem to have the stuff to win against the Giants.

On form, the Giants were beaten when the ump yelled "Play ball!" in April. Cincinnati had the call. Then, in stepped Lady Luck. When fate begins to give a ball team a kick in the seat of the pants, the only refuge is armor-plate. If there was any bad luck that "Jack" Hendricks, Reds manager, didn't get, it was being saved up for the presidential race. Pitchers were wrong, infielders cracked bones, a black cat attended every game and sat on the Reds' bench.

The fact is that golf and the motor-car is increasingly threatening the so-called "national" game. On a recent Sunday, with the Browns as opponents, the Yanks played under a perfect sky, to almost as many vacant as filled seats.

The links were crowded, the tennis courts had huge waiting lists and the country roads were thick with everything from Ford's fleas to the most expensive import.

Maybe this was why the Yanks and Browns couldn't fill the stadium.

But meanwhile, Cincinnati is to have a new semi-public golf course that will give more thousands a chance to play, not watch. Some of these days public or semi-public golf courses will be as plentiful in and around the big cities as tennis courts are now, and if houses are in the way, they will simply be moved.

A Winning Leap in Leap Year

In the recent track and field meet of the middle west Women's Athletic Association at Detroit, the broad jump was won by Marie Haas of Cleveland, pictured above, her mark of 14 feet 6 inches setting a new local record.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero—Bobby Barrett, Cub utility first sacker, who drove in all his team's runs with a homer and a triple as the Dodgers were being beaten 4-1.

Babe Ruth hit homer No. 33, his 14th for July and knocked in four runs, but the Yankees lost both ends of a double bill at St. Louis 2-1 and 5-4.

Zachery won a pitcher's battle from Collins, holding Detroit to three hits, the Senators winning 1-0.

The Athletics and the Indians divided a double header, the A's winning the first 7-3 and losing the second 4-3.

Pittsburgh had one big inning in a game with the Giants that was stopped by rain in the seventh and won 5 to 0.

Blades and Hornsby hit homers as the Cards beat the Phils, 6-3.

A strained muscle kept Eddie Collins out of the Red Sox-White Sox game, but his substitute McClellan contributed three timely hits and Chicago won 5-4.

Chicago—Miss Edith Cummings, national woman's golf champion, has entered the woman's western championship tournament to be played here next week. One hundred and thirty women so far have registered.

BABE SETS UP A NEW RECORD

He Maintains That They are Made to be Broken and he Does Nothing Else But

14 HOMER RUNS DURING JULY

More Four-Ply Smacks in a Month's Time Than Were Ever Smacked Before in Baseball History

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 1—"Records", said Babe Ruth, "were made to be broken."

And breaking them is something the Bambino does nothing else but.

He broke another yesterday out in hoe St. Louis where he hit his 14th homer for the month of July—more four-ply smacks in a month's time than ever were smacked before in the history of modern baseball. In 1921 during June he hit 13 homers.

The Babe is away on a merry chase after his season home run record. He is nine round trips ahead of where he was last year, but five behind where he was at this time in 1921.

It would not be a bit surprising to see Ruth catch up and pass himself, as you might say, along about mid-September and make a new record of sixty or more home runs for the season. It would be hard to evince surprise if this amazing young man should step up and bat the Woolworth building over into Jersey.

Anything is conceivable with the Babe, except that he should fail to astonish us once in a while.

Incidentally he might lead the league in batting as well as in home runs and runs driven in and a few other things, although the chances are that if he chooses to go after a new mark for homers he will have to sacrifice something.

FINEST GOLF TURF FOR BIG TOURNEY

Professional Golfers Will Meet at French Lick September 14 to 20 For $5,000 Purse

SIXTY-FOUR ARE ENTERED

French Lick Springs Ind., Aug. 1—Players who will enter the Professional Golfers' Association tournament at French Lick, September 14 to 20 will meet a course which is said to be the finest in the world today.

The course is long, is characterized, by hills and valleys, has more than 100 traps which are deep and wide, and undulating putting greens which are all elevated. The golfer will find that the yardage is longer than it seems because of the position of the greens on hilltops, it was said.

The French Lick course, according to some authorities, is much similar to the Oakland Hills course at Detroit, where the American open was won by Cyril Walker, an 118 pound Britisher.

Sixty-four players will start at French Lick, the best of the American performers. In that field will not only be Walker, but Walter Hagen, recently returned from his British conquest; Gene Sarazen, present P. G. A. Champion, and such others as Jim Barnes, Joe Kirkwood, MacDonald Smith.

Thomas D. Taggart, president of the French Lick Hotel, has offered purses aggregating $5,000.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

White Sulphar Springs, N. Y.—The row occasioned in the local boxing circles by the appearance of Luis Firpo appears to be no row at all, but a mere display of professional jealousy by Mike McTigue, Bartley Madden and Jack Britton. The trio pulled away from Tom Luther's place as soon as the South American arrived, presumably not caring to share the spotlight with the "wild bull." Firpo started light work today as beginning of training for his match with Marry Wills in Jersey City September 11.

Miss Martha Merritt of Frankfort, Ind., and Miss Florence Zoller of Greensburg came today to be the week-end house guests of Miss Margaret Hertless.

Mrs. Frank Catt entertained the members of her card club with a one o'clock luncheon Wednesday at McCoy Park near Greensburg. The afternoon was spent with playing Bridge and in boating and swimming.

Miss Dorothy Sparks, whose marriage to Horace Foster, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., will take place the first part of this month, was the honored guest at the bridge party given by Mrs. Guy Abercrombie Thursday afternoon. The guests included members of the Bridge club and two extra tables, including one out-of-town guest, Mrs. Francis Moore of Chicago, Ill. Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the card games.

Miss Marie Elizabeth Schenley and Edward Paul Sage, both residents of Indianapolis, were quietly married at the home of the bridegroom's brother, the Rev. R. W. Sage in this city, Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Rev. Sage performed the ceremony. The bride and groom were accompanied by the Mr. Sage's sister, Mrs. R. F. Crabbe of Indianapolis. The Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Sage served a wedding dinner in honor of the bride couple at six o'clock Friday evening.

The Members of the Willing Worker's Sunday School class of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church enjoyed an all day meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. F. J. Ewbank northeast of the city. The meeting was in honor of J. H. Scholl, the teacher of the class, who is retiring after twenty years of faithful service to the class. At the noon hour a pitch-in dinner was served and a program was rendered in the afternoon. Miss Betty Jean Baxter gave two piano solos and Mary Estelle Compton three readings. Mrs. Amos Baxter was a guest of the class and she gave two readings. A short business session was held just before the class adjourned for the day.

Other representative views included:

Sir Arthur Currie, commander in chief of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces—We know now that as a means of solving the world's problems and removing international discord war is a delusion and a lie.

Sir Philip Gibbs, famous British war correspondent—The only gain to humanity from the war, as far as I can see now, was the inspiration that comes from the supreme valor of youth and its ready sacrifice for ideals higher than self interest.

Samuel Gompers—The world gained a freedom from the menace of organized militarist imperialism.

Charles W. Elliott, president emeritus of Harvard—It brought the nations nearer to effective union for promoting peace throughout the world.

David Starr Jordan—In the aggregate, nothing whatever.

Upton Sinclair—The world gained an opportunity to learn that capitalist governments are incompetent to manage civilized communities.

Ten or more taxpayers, who will be affected by the levy, other than those who pay poll taxes only, may file an appeal with the county auditor, not later than the fourth Monday in September. The auditor immediately will forward the appeal to the state board of tax commissioners, who must fix a date for hearing within the county not less than five nor more than thirty days after receipt of such appeal. After the hearing, the state board may approve or reduce the levies, but may not increase them.

took the stand.

"After hearing arguments of the state and the defense," Judge Caverly stated, "it is still the opinion of the court that it should hear evidence in mitigation as well as evidence in aggravation."

"Therefore the objection of the state's attorney to the testimony for the defense witness is over-ruled."

The court's decision ended some ten court hours of bitter fighting between the state and defense on the admissibility of medical evidence. While Justice Caverly did not so state in his final ruling, he has stated at various times during the arguments that he would not listen to testimony tending to show insanity but would merely permit the introduction of testimony showing evidence of mental disease, "in mitigation of punishment."

AUTO HIT BY FREIGHT

DIFFICULT TO DISTINGUISH WOMEN FROM MEN ON BEACH THIS SEASON

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for United Press)

New York, N. Y., Aug. 1—Regardless of the demure looking bathing suits sponsored this year by style magazines and higher class shops; girls will be boys!

One can scarcely distinguish women from men on the beaches where slender figures, mannish bathing suits and haircuts hold sway. Ninety per cent of the bathing suits worn on the beaches about New York are one-piece affairs which are cut very short and are strictly form-fitting. Women prefer dark blue to other colors and perhaps this is because the men seem to prefer this shade. There are brilliant red, green, yellow and blue one-piece suits, of course, but these are not as conspicuous as they might be.

This season Milady wears no white belt about her waist. Perhaps that is because the men aren't wearing them. Neither does she wear stockings. Even half-socks are taboo. Fancy slippers and ankle-strap bathing shoes are not in evidence, as the plain rubber sandals are newer. The only way the 1924 feminine bather can be distinguished from her husband is by her double chin. And with strict adherence to diet, calories, rolling, etc., the tell-tale chin will be done away with.

The latest beach game is sort of a feminine version of "Beaver." One counts the long-haired ladies along the beach and the person finding ten such oddities first wins the "ice pajamas." All heads are bobbed. All heads are permanent waved. There's only one thought in the feminine mind—"long may she wave!"

The first glance at the bathers brings blushes to one's cheeks. Slenderness seems not to be a requisite for the form-fitting suits. There are women of dreadnaught size, parading in baby blue swimming suits which fit like the paper on the wall. There are gazelle-like persons with bare, scrawny limbs, showing scratches from recent razoring. Real venuses are none to plentiful, it would seem.

A fashion writer finds little to write about. Women are as alike as flees, all wearing one-piece suits, bare legs, rubber sandals, all bob-haired, all peeling from the sun's rays like snakes in springtime.

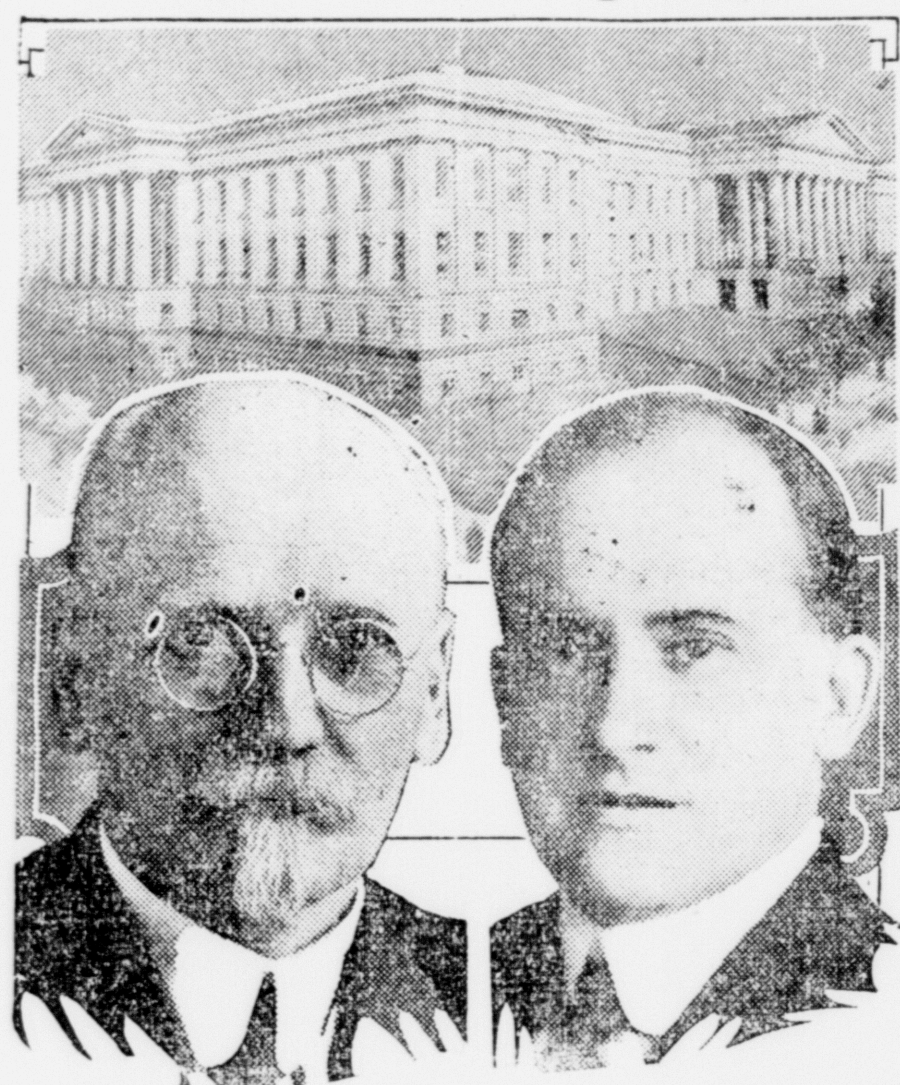

Occasionally someone passes, bringing with her a breath of Palm Beach, such as a string of huge pearls about her throat. Water-proof pearls chokers are a new beach fad. These aren't worn with the boyish suits, but with bathing dresses. Long rubber bathing capes of white splashed with color are occasionally worn and these have three-cornered bandanas to match which are worn over a tight water-proof cap. One of the prettiest outfits seen at Long Beach was a light green one-piece suit worn with green rubber sandals and a long white rubber cape splashed with green. The young lady who wore it had glorious red hair and caused some comment among the more boyish garbed bathers.

One would say that the latest beach accessory was the rubber vanity bag which holds rouge, powder and lip-stick. These are colorful little bags held together with a draw string and by carrying this with her, Milady has her lips, cheeked and chin colors ever ready. Red lips and pale cheeks seem to be the rage at the beach. One sees ver little rouge applied to the cheeks. That's another reason the girls appear rather mannish.

One wonders what will ever become of those adorable little dress-like bathing suits which adorned and still adorn the show windows. Perhaps they will be worn by the fashionables at Southern resorts again next Winter, but they have no friends up North this summer.

Kokomo—Residents who for years have sought to get Vaile Ave. paved, will celebrate the paving by street dance.

Charges Patent Irregularities

The United States Patent Office (above) in Washington, serio-comic vaudeville act and headline government attraction since 1836, is in the limelight again. Charges of favoritism, discrimination, inefficiency and domination by a ring of outside patent attorneys have been brought against Thomas D. Robertson, commissioner of patents (lower left), by Alexander J. Wedderburn, president of the American Society of Inventors. The Senate Committee on Patents is investigating them.

BLANKET OF FOG KEEPS FLIERS ON THE GROUND

U. S. Airmen Remain Aboard The Weather to Resume Flight Clear Weather to Resume Flight

THEY HAVE PLENTY OF TIME

(By United Press)

Aboard the U. S. Richmond, Houghton Bay, Orkney Island, Aug. 1—The American world flight could not be resumed today because of a blanket of fog over the sea and over the Iceland coast.

Lieut. Lowell Smith, commander of the expedition, smiled grimly as he announced cancellation of today's flight.

"We'll try again tomorrow," he said, "August and September are the best flying months up here. We've plenty of time."

When noon rolled around there was no improvement in the weather which was what the native phraseology describes as "hazy."

The airmen remained aboard the Richmond; the three planes bobbed at their anchorage; the sea was moderately calm.

DEFENSE DAY IS TO BE VOLUNTARY

they say, makes it plain that a general mobilization is sought.

While a general mobilization in America could not possibly arouse the grave concern that such action by a European nation would cause, the Democrats believe it to be folly for this country to engage in such a demonstration at a time when the league of Nations is meeting with the question of reducing armaments on its program.

Premature Old Age of Women

It is no secret that so many women suffer from ailments peculiar to their sex. Dark circles appear under the eyes, a pale, drawn, haggard expression to the countenance, and the weakness which accompanies such ailments is evidenced by the lagging step, headaches, backache and nervous conditions. Every woman who is afflicted in this way should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which for half a century has been overcoming some of the most stubborn ailments of women.

DEFENSE DAY IS TO BE VOLUNTARY

President Coolidge Defends War Department Order in Telegram to C. W. Bryan of Nebraska

DEPENDS ON LOCAL DESIRE

Military "Defense Test" Proposed for September 12 Assumes Startling Political Significance

(By United Press)

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 1—President Coolidge today denied that the war department planned for national defense day "contemplating a disruption of business in any way."

In a reply telegraphed to Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, the president defended the war department order.

"The people of the several states are expected to participate in accordance to such opportunity they may have for a patriotic demonstration," President Coolidge said.

"National Defense Day plans for the patriotic demonstration to be dependent on state and local desire and are intended to be purely voluntary," the president's message said.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
By FRAZER EDWARDS

Washington, Aug. 1—There is no doubt in the minds of party leaders today that the military "defense test" proposed for September 12 has assumed a startling political significance.

In taking a position squarely behind his running mate, Governor Bryan of Nebraska, regarding the mobilization of civilian and industrial units, John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, hurled the question into the campaign, leaders agree.

With that conviction they seek to gauge the extent to which the issue would have a bearing on the November elections. They see the possibility of a fierce controversy between the Republican and Democratic parties involving military preparedness on one hand and war-like demonstrations, calculated to disturb world peace, on the other.

Both President Coolidge and Mr. Davis are now on record on the issue. Senator La Follette, independent presidential candidate, has not expressed himself on the question, although he has always opposed anything smacking of militaristic movements.

With Davis' warm approval of Governor Bryan's stand, some Democratic leaders, believing they have the best end of the argument, were inclined today to carry the fight to the Republicans. They are contracting President Coolidge's rebuke of a pacifist group, in which he asserted that efforts to contrive defense day as a "mobilization" were "unfair" and the official instructions issued by the war department. ## HUNTING SEASON UPL...

Sportsmen Take Advantage of First Day to Shoot Squirrels

The hunting season got under full blast early this morning in Rush county, when scores of shooters took their guns and made their way at daylight for the woods.

The squirrel season was formerly opened today, and will remain open until December 1. The rabbit season also is open now, and has been since April 1, but sportsmen only try their luck at the young ones at this time of the year. The rabbit season will be in full swing in late October and November, and will close January 10. Hunting license have been selling good the past few days at the county clerk's office, and indications are for a busy season.

NO POLITICS IN IT, IS VIEW HERE

Few Hold to Belief That Political Fued Figured in Change of Post-office Location

OWNERS SLOW IN BIDDING

D. M. Lollis Did not Have Plans When he Purchased Hotel, His Attorney Declares

Little stock is taken here in the story being circulated today, that politics entered into the acceptance of the bid of the Lollis Hotel Company to house the Rushville postoffice.

In some quarters it was being stated that removing the postoffice from the Masonic Temple, owned by the Masonic Temple association, in which Senator James E. Watson owns stock, might be credited to a political feud between Harry S. New, postmaster general, and Senator Watson.

A. L. Garry, attorney for D. M. Lollis, head of the company which purchased and is remodeling the Windsor hotel, where the postoffice will be located, was authority for the statement today that politics did not figure in the transaction and that Mr. Lollis had no idea of obtaining the postoffice when he purchased the hotel.

Mr. Garry asserted that Mr. Lollis had plans drawn to establish store rooms on the first floor of the hotel building, when he came here July 15 to take possession, and that he changed his plans when he discovered that the postoffice department was advertising for bids for a postoffice location.

The postoffice at Troy, Ohio, is in a hotel owned by the Lollis Hotel company, and with his previous experience, Mr. Lollis prepared a bid. The postoffice department first advertised for bids for postoffice quarters in Rushville in February. No bids being offered, the department again posted a notice in May. Still the Masonic Temple association did not make an attempt to get the lease renewed and a third attempt was made to get bids last month, with the present lease due to expire today.

Since there is no doubt about the removal of the postoffice from the Masonic Temple, many people were conjecturing about the use to which the room might be put. The suggestion was made that it be converted into a theatre and joined with the Princess, which would mean that the whole lower floor would be used for this purpose. It was suggested that four small store rooms could be placed in front, with ten feet of the frontage reserved for a lobby and theatre entrance.

Some people figured today that the Masonic Temple association had profited by losing the postoffice, since the expense of maintaining the postoffice room was figured at $2,400 a year and the rental was only $1,600.

VALUATIONS HERE STAND ACID TEST

Rush County One of Number Where no Increases in Assessments Were Ordered by State Board

RAISED IN 24 COUNTIES

Officers of Each Municipality Will be Notified of Appraisements to Make Tax Levies

Rush county's assessments for taxation purposes passed the acid test of the state board of tax commissioners and will stand unchanged.

This was revealed today when it was announced by the tax board that assessments on personal property in twenty-four counties had been increased and in the remaining counties had been approved. Rush county was one of the number in which there was no increase.

The increases ranged from 5 to 33 1/2 per cent and affect assessments of automobiles, household goods, hogs, farm implements, cows, mules, horses, and poultry. Except in Owen and Henry counties the increases were county-wide. Most of the increases were made on automobiles.

From the total assessments compiled by the state tax board it was indicated that they will show an increase of $30,000,000 over those of last year.

County board of review will meet next Tuesday to approve or disapprove the action of the state commissioners in the equalization of county assessments.

Rush county's assessments will be certified to the county auditor and the total valuation of all taxable property in each taxing unit of the county will be ascertained by the auditor. The law gives the auditor until the first day of September to issue to the officers of each municipality a certificate showing the net total appraisement for taxation.

The officers will then be in position to determine what their tax levies shall be. The budget law of 1921 requires the proper official of each municipality shall publish a budget upon forms prescribed by the state board of accounts, "showing in detail the money proposed to be expended during the succeeding year, the valuation of all taxable property within the jurisdiction, and the rate of taxation which it is proposed to establish after a public hearing."

Ten days notice by publication of such budget, and of the time and place of hearing before the local officers, is required, the hearing must Continued on Page Six

YOUTHS PLANNED "PERFECT CRIME"

Dr. William A. White, Washington, D. C., Alienist, Testifies For Defense in Franks Murder Case

INTELLECTUAL FEAT, PLAN

Defense Scores Important Victory When Justice Caverly Admits Medical Testimony

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 1—The object of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb in killing Robert Franks was to commit the "perfect crime," Dr. William A. White of Washington, D. C., alienist, testified today at the judicial hearing of the two youthful slayers.

Dr. White said that Loeb told him that he and Leopold had discussed committing a murder long before Franks was killed and had considered various persons, including their parents, but they decided that to kill a member of the immediate family would hamper free movement.

"The real object in the murder was to commit a 'perfect crime,'" Dr. White testified. "The idea was for the master criminal to do a good job. There was to be thoroughly and completely planned and he the object for great concern in the immediate vicinity. There was to be no clue. An intellectual feat was to be accomplished."

Justice Caverly recessed for lunch at this time.

Before lunch and over the repeated objections of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, Dr. White sketched the dream life of Loeb. He described a succession of phantasies which he said existed in the mind of the youthful defendants.

"He looked upon himself," Dr. White said, "as a master criminal—the master criminal mind of the century—directing great bands of criminals in their underworld activities."

"He also thought himself a great detective. He plotted great crimes and then imagined himself as the detective unfolding the plot and capturing the criminals."

Dr. White also told how Loeb walked the streets, giving secret signs to his imaginary criminal band, directing what houses to rob.

Dr. White also pointed out that Loeb admitted being an inveterate liar, and he started lying at an early stage.

Court was called to order at 10:35. Without preliminaries, Walter Baerach one of the defense attorneys, plunged into a mass of precedents to support the defense demand for the introduction of the medical testimony.

Baerach brought out that in all the cases he cited, the diseased mentality was taken into consideration for "mitigation of punishment."

The defense scored an important victory—a victory that may save the youthful slayers from the gallows—when Chief Justice Caverly permitted the introduction of medical testimony by Chief Defense Attorney Darrow. Darrow holds the medical testimony will show the court the presence of evidence tending to "mitigate punishment."

Justice Caverly said that he felt it his duty to hear evidence in mitigation of punishment and in a few words summed up his stand, overruled the state's objections and ordered the defense to proceed.

KIWANIANS EAT, HEAR SPEECHES

Enjoy Meeting at Big Flatrock Christian Church Thursday Night With Good Fellowship Prevailing

S. L. TRABUE SPEAKS FOR CLUB

Mrs. Fanny Gowdy Mansfield Presents Picture of Her Great Grandfather, Who Founded Church

The spirit of good fellowship prevailed at Big Flatrock Christian church Thursday night when members of the club, their wives and other guests were present for a dinner in the basement, served by the women of the church, and a program afterwards in the main auditorium of the church.

The club has been making a regular custom of visiting the church every summer, at the height of the fried chicken season, and this year there were just ninety-nine visitors who once more were filled up on fried chicken and other good food.

For the program upstairs, Samuel L. Trabue spoke in behalf of the Kiwanis club and Elmer Hungerford represented the church congregation.

A pleasing feature was the presentation by Mrs. Fanny Gowdy Mansfield of a framed picture of her great grandfather, the Rev. Gabriel McDuffy, an itinerant minister who founded the Big Flatrock church. He was also the founder of the Arlington and Homer Christian churches and exerted a wide influence on the religious life of the community during his day.

The picture was accepted for the church by Mrs. Noah Tryon and will be hung in a prominent place in the auditorium.

Dr. P. H. Chadwick, vice president of the club, presided over the meeting and Will P. Jay, the president, provided some entertainment with several stories of a late vintage. Miss Florence Gronier sang two solos and was vigorously applauded.

Mr. Trabue commented on the presence of some members of the Rotary club, as guests of Kiwanians, chiding them for being obliged to come to a Kiwanis meeting to get a "square meal" and soak up some fellowship.

In having some fun at the expense of the Rotarians, Mr. Trabue led up to the thought that both the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs were engaged in the same enterprise—community improvement, and he emphasized that the community meant the whole county.

Mr. Trabue pictured the pleasant relations that had sprung up between the people of the Big Flatrock neighborhood and the people of Rushville and expressed the hope that the same conditions would prevail all over Rush county, would overlap into other counties.

AUTO LICENSE PLATES SELLING AT CUT RATES

Many Automobile Owners Take Advantage of Law Permitting Purchase at Half Price

BECOMES EFFECTIVE TODAY

Automobile license plates were reduced in price today throughout the state, as the last five months of the year the regular license fee is cut in two for the remainder of the year.

The local branch of the license department at the Triangle garage reported a big business today, as many owners had held off until today to buy their plates at the reduced fee. Of course in all cases, the applicants stated that they had "just bought the car," which would indicate a big business for one day in selling machines.

Most everyone who has bought a car within the past week or so, have operated on dealers licenses in order to save the extra fee, and early today when the license office opened, the people began to come in, and take out the plates at the reduced rates.

The local office in charge of Charles Caldwell, has already received the 1925 plates, which are in storage at the garage, and will be ready for distribution about December 12, when released by the secretary of state.

er counties, and eventually spread through the state and the United States, making the people of the county more closely united.

"The inventive genius of the age," he said, "has emphasized the comforts and luxury of the material side of life until we have been lured from the primary human and spiritual values of life to the material values, and each day we search for new amusement and thrills only to find true happiness unattained."

"We therefore come to feel that happiness is only a mirage in the desert continuously luring us on but never rewarding us with the joys of contentment."

"When we experience such feelings we should awaken to the fact that we are only chasing rainbows; that we will never be able to throw salt on the bird's tail and therefore never catch it until we change our bait; that we are doomed to the pessimist's hell unless and until we recognize that life's victories perch only upon the banners of those who stand for the great truths in the ordinary affairs of life, courageously performing the homely tasks with hopes born of high ideals."

"Man's rich and marvelous mind is equal to the inspiration of a magnificent World filled with splendid opportunity."

"Emerson has well said, 'Man, thou palace of sight and sound, carrying in thy senses the nights and mornings, the summers and winters, carrying in thy brain the Geometry of the city of God, in thy heart all the bowers of love and all the realms of right and wrong.'"

"In these days we are beginning to understand that human life is of infinitely greater value than material wealth; that service stands above self."

"Competition has taught us that we can only advance through co-operation and the success of every legitimate industry brings success to every other worthy enterprise. In like manner the failure of any business is injurious, to some extent at least, to

Traders Evidently Feel That the Reduction of $1.10 Thursday Was Enough For a While

ALL LIGHTS SELL AT $9.75

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 1.—Hog prices held steady on the Indianapolis livestock exchange today. Traders evidently felt that their reduction of $1.10 Thursday was enough for a while. The receipts totaled 7,000 with 4,526 porkers head over.

All lights sold at $9.75, pigs brought $6 to $9.25. Smooth packing sows sold at $8 to $8.25 while the roughs brought $7.75 to $8. Stags were quoted at $6 to $8. Light lights sold at $9.25 to $9.75.

Cattle moved at prices steady with Thursday's close. Thursday bidding was from 25 to 50c lower but, in the final hours, losses were recovered. Choice continues at $10.60. Heifers sold at $9.15, cows as high as $7 while medium and fair cattle continued druggy. Receipts were estimated at 500.

The calf market was lower, there being no calves good enough to bring more than $10. The bulk of good veals brought $9 to $9.50. Estimated receipts 600.

Sheep and lambs were steady with sheep again moving roughly. Receipts 300. Choice lambs sold at $12.50 while sheep sold from $3.50 to $6.

NET GAIN IN WHEAT IS PUT AT $100,000,000

Department of Agriculture Says Price Increases Will Yield Farmers This Sum if Not More

CORN STANDS ARE SPOTTED

Washington, Aug. 1.—Net gain to the farmers from the recent wheat price increases will be nearer $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 than the $1,000,000,000 which has been estimated in some quarters, the department of agriculture said today.

Such an increase nevertheless, "bespeaks an ability to pay off debts and a general improvement in financial conditions in the wheat country," the statement said.

"On the other hand, the corn situation is by no means good," it continued. "Stands are extremely spotted. Many fields are full of weeds and much of the crop is so far behind that it will need something approaching a frostless fall to mature."

"The main significance of the corn situation lies in its effect on livestock production and prices during the coming year. Expensive corn this fall presumably will prolong the liquidation of breeding stock now in progress."

"The south", the statement said, "is considered to be going through critical stages now, but cotton bids fair to produce a larger and more evenly distributed income than last year."

"As no man lives into himself alone so every business is dependent to a degree upon every other commercial enterprise. It is therefore manifest that the standards of social, business and professional life are of major importance."

Next Week at Princess

"Name the Man!", the first Victor Seastrom production since that director came to the Goldwyn studios from Sweden, opens Monday at the Princess theatre.

Included in the cast are Conrad Nagel, Mar Busch, Patsy Ruth Miller, Hobart Bosworth, Creighton Hale, DeWitt C. Jennings, Evelyn Selbie and many other well-known players.

The story was adapted to the screen by Paul Bern, from the novel entitled, "The Master of Man," by Sir Hall Caine, and was Victor Seastrom's first production under a contract the Swedish director signed with the Goldwyn studios.

The entire story is set on the Isle of Man, and deals with the youthful Deemster, or judge of the island, and the trial of the girl whom he had wronged for the murder of her child.

The picture is declared one of the most dramatic and emotional ever filmed, and in it, Miss Busch and Mr. Nagel rise to their greatest emotional heights.

The picture was enthusiastically acclaimed by critics and public, and had long runs at large theatres in New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, San Francisco and other of the largest cities in the United States.

BIBLE THOUGHT
—FOR TODAY—
Bible Thoughts memorized will prove a precious blessing in later years.

The Lord is good:—O taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man that trusteth in him.—Psalm 34:8.
Prayer—As the heart pauleth after the water brooks, so may our hearts pant after Thee, Thou living God.

Campaign Issues

The major political parties, according to reports, have been casting about for a live campaign issue.
Late developments indicate that they have one and that it is so hot that they can't let loose of it.
President Coolidge proclaimed "Defense Day." The pacifist organizations condemned the idea and construed it as "Mobilization Day." The president rebuked the pacifists with the charge that it was unfair.
Gov. Bryan of Nebraska, democratic nominee for vice president, took issue with the president and J. W. Davis, his running mate, agreed. If that isn't the finest little way of making an issue, where's a better one.
One side says a general mobilization would be a war-like gesture and the other replies the idea is silly. And there you are.

Thrift in Public Education

The recent session of the National Education Association at Washington, D. C., emphasized the importance of thrift, teaching economy in school administration and introduction of universal saving systems.
Arthur H. Chauncey, chairman of the National Committee on Thrift Education, advocates courses of study on these lines in the school systems of our country.
General introduction of school saving deposit systems, with millions of small depositors drawing interest, are taking up this matter on practical lines to counteract the tendency of children learning to spend money before they have acquired earning ability.
The morality and stability of character, to say nothing about individual honesty and saving habit, of the child can be converted by such systems for the welfare and prosperity of the individual, the family and our country.

dress of the President of the United States delivered before the National Education Association in Washington, D. C. Among other things the President said that one of the chief rights of an American citizen is the right to an education that the country, which offers so many advantages denied to those reared on the pavements and among crowded buildings, ought no longer to be handicapped by poor school facilities. "The resources exist," said President Coolidge, "with which they can be provided if they are adequately marshalled and employed." This is the contention that friends of good schools for rural children have long been making. The endorsement of the President of the United States should bring us nearer to our goal.

From Daily Republican Monday, Aug. 2, 1909
White sitting on the C. H. & D. railroad, near the I. & C. power house last night about nine o'clock, Will McManus, a farmer living near Gings, was struck by a slow-going east-bound freight train and miraculously escaped a horrible death.
Will M. Redman received a carload of tents this morning to be used during the Chautauqua by those who wish to camp on the grounds during the meeting. The shipment includes the big Chautauqua tent, which is eighty by one hundred and forty feet. This is much larger than the tent last year.

While in swimming near Carthage Friday evening, Paul Norris, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Norris, saved a boy friend from drowning.

With the erection of a building in the city park an annual chautauqua would be assured for Rushville and would be a permanent affair. Indications now point to the fact that a structure will be built next fall for this purpose.

The relatives and friends of Mr. J. Minor Bell and Miss Bessie I. Nelson were greatly surprised when the rumor that the principal had been married for almost two years reached their ears.

Miss Blanche Wrennick has accepted the position, as telephone operator at the I. & C. office, made vacant by the resignation of Miss Lucile Linn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Downey of Arlington have announced the wedding of their daughter, Miss Blanche Downey to George J. Carwaine of Morristown, to take place at their home August 4. Mr. Downey is cashier of the bank at Arlington.

Capt. John K. Gowdy took Hon. James E. Watson for a drive over Rush county roads today and the pair of old comrades had a delightful afternoon together.

Misses Ethel and Freda Flint returned Saturday evening from Danville where they have been attending Normal. They expect to attend the county institute and Chautauqua next week. Both will teach again in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. Heber H. Allen left this morning for Tippecanoe Lake to this morning for Tippecanoe Lake to will have as guests during their stay at the lake, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Zimmer of New York City and Miss Bess Allen of Indianapolis.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

WASHINGTON—Callers at the White House during the past two weeks have learned that President Coolidge's taciturnity is not a pose.
Instead, it's an inheritance.
John Coolidge, the president's father, who came to Washington for a visit with his son following the burial at Plymouth, Vt., of Calvin Coolidge Jr., spent much of his time, during his two weeks' stay, over at the executive offices.
As the president's father, he was naturally introduced to all the callers of note. He took all such introductions graciously and listened with seeming interest to whatever the new acquaintances had to say, but beyond a "yes" or "no" in answer to direct queries he took no part in conversations. Ambitious reporters were unable to get even that much out of him.

DOG days in Washington is not good hunting weather.
At least that seems to be the conclusion of Frank Vanderlip, ex-banker and capitalist, who last spring opened the Citizen's Federal Research Bureau here for the avowed purpose of seeking out the shortcomings of public office holders in general to assist Senator Wheeler's investigation of the Department of Justice in particular.
Vanderlip has given up the big home he leased on Massachusetts avenue and has returned to his country place at Scarborough, N. Y.

The quarters of the research bureau, however, are still retained, as are a force of employees and investigators. All inquiries are told to "Ask Mr. Vanderlip."

WOMEN are not represented, even by proxy, in the administration of the state and treasury departments during the absence in Europe of Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary of Treasury Mellon.
For the acting heads of those two departments are bachelor bachelors. And, as it acts in a sort of bachelors' alliance, they have taken quarters together for the summer.

Garrard Winston, who is Mellon's right-hand aid in fiscal affairs, is supervising Uncle Sam's income and expenses. Mr. Winston is vacationing.
Leland Harrison, who started in the foreign service as a secretary at Tokyo in 1907, is doing the heavy diplomatic stuff for Hughes.

MRS. AMOS FRIES, wife of the chief of the chemical warfare service of the U. S. army, and Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president general of the D. A. R., fear that radical propaganda has turned the heads of American women and has caused their sympathies to run away with their good sense.
"Fascist groups in America," they say, "have waxed strong because of their sentimental appeals to our women and our women's organizations."
In an appeal to "all right thinking peoples," they seek to set the women of this country on guard against "any individual or group of individuals who would substitute untried theories for our great institutions of government."
Although not so labeled, the Fries-Cook warning might be interpreted as an appeal to the women to look the other way when the La Follette-Wheeler campaigners come to town.

IN addition to her warning to women to beware the beguilements of the pacifist and radical, Mrs. Fries has phrased her patriotic creed in the following verses, entitled "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Slacker," which is being distributed through the Reserve Officers' Associations:
"I didn't raise my boy to be a Slacker,
To lick the 'bloomin' boots' of those in power,
But to fight for the right, and be fearless in the sight
Of the high and mighty rulers of the hour."

By FRANK GETTY

New York, Aug. 1.—As they come down the back-stretch in the major league baseball races, it begins to look more than ever like the Giants and the Yanks for the world series. And my guess would make the Giants favorites in the big series.

A few weeks ago this column said the Yanks were fading fast, but would probably muster strength enough to pull out and win the 1924 pennant. It still looks that way. Naturally, there is an "if." That is the saving grace in baseball.

Huggins must have luck and comparative freedom from injuries if he gets under the wire ahead. He isn't getting much pitching, but the Yanks pack a terrific punch and the team is hitting again. But a blanket would cover the first four clubs, and Huggins knows that if the Yanks "stun" their toes, all seven of their competitors will "put the boots" to his noble athletes if they get three points down. And they'll chance a foul, at that.

So much for the Yanks, who, before the season began, were runaway favorites.

The poor old Giants! The experts, April 1, said John McGraw had only an old glove, his personal brains and a hand of "has-beens and never-wases," fitted only for the old folks' home. They named the Giants loose in the cellar and invited seven other clubs to go out and beat them up.

Well, the Giants are breezing along in front and look certain to cop. Cincinnati, picked by many to beat the Giants and be in the series, has failed. When Grover Alexander busted his wrist the Cubs had an awful blow. The Pirates pulled up, but they don't seem to have the stuff to win against the Giants.

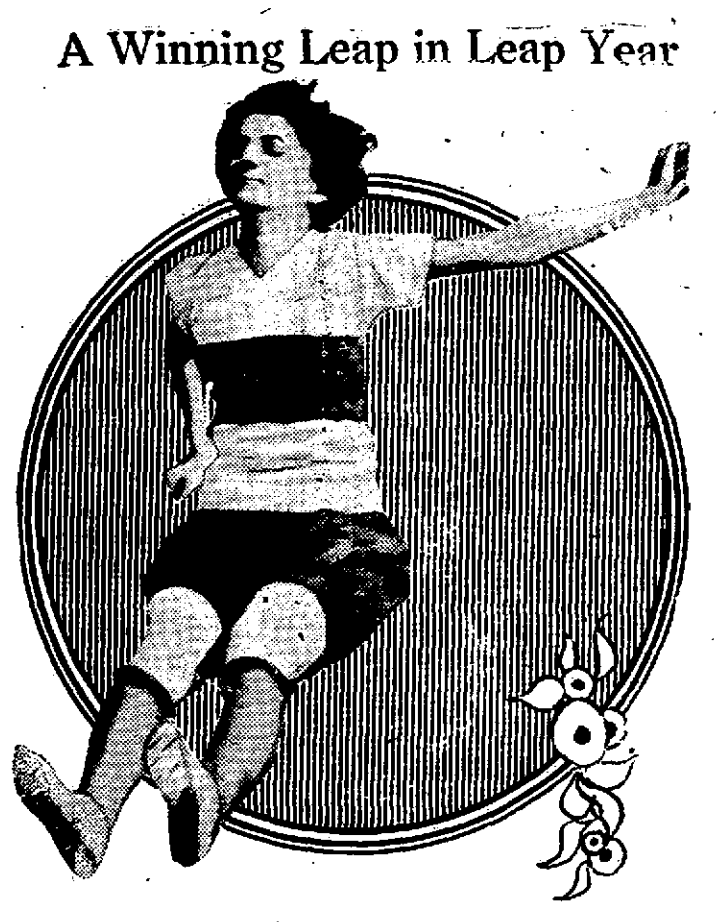

On form, the Giants were beaten when the ump yelled "Play ball!" in April. Cincinnati had the call. Then, in stepped Lady Luck. When fate begins to give a ball team a kick in the seat of the pants, the only refuge is armor-plate. If there was any had luck that "Jack" Hendricks, Reds manager, didn't get, it was being saved up for the presidential race. Pitchers were wrong, infielders cracked bones, a black rat attended every game and sat on the Reds' bench.

The fact is that golf and the motor-car is increasingly threatening the so-called "national" game. On a recent Sunday, with the Browns as opponents, the Yanks played under a perfect sky, to almost as many vacant as filled seats.

The links were crowded, the tennis courts had long waiting lists and the country roads were thick with everything from Ford's to the most expensive importation.

Maybe this was the Yanks and Browns couldn't fill the stadium.

But meanwhile, Cincinnati is to have a new semi-public golf course that will give more thousands a chance to play, not watch. Some of these days public or semi-public golf courses will be as plentiful in and around the big cities as tennis courts are now, and if houses are in the way, they will simply be moved.

In the recent track and field meet of the middle west Women's Athletic Association at Detroit, the broad jump was won by Marie Haas of Cleveland, pictured above, her mark of 14 feet 6 inches setting a new local record.

FOR BIG TOURNEY

Professional Golfers Will Meet at French Lick September 14 to 20 For $5,000 Purse

SIXTY-FOUR ARE ENTERED

French Lick Springs Ind., Aug. 1.—Players who will enter the Professional Golfers' Association tournament at French Lick, September 14 to 20 will meet a course which is said to be the finest in the world today.

The course is long, is characterized by hills and valleys, has more than 100 traps which are deep and wide, and undulating putting greens which are all elevated. The golfer will find that the yardage is longer than it seems because of the position of the greens on hilltops, it was said.

The French Lick course, according to some authorities, is much similar to the Oakland Hills course at Detroit, where the American open was won by Cyril Walker, an 118 pound Britisher.

Sixty-four players will start at French Lick, the best of the American performers. In that field will not only be Walker, but Walter Hagen, recently returned from his British conquest; Gene Sarazen present P. G. A. Champion, and such others as Jim Barnes, Joe Kirkwood, MacDonald Smith.

Thomas D. Taggart, president of the French Lick Hotel, has offered purses aggregating $5,000.

14 HOMER RUNS DURING JULY

More Four-Ply Smacks in a Month's Time Than Were Ever Smacked Before in Baseball History

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 1.—"Records," said Babe Ruth, "were made to be broken."

And breaking them is something the Bambino does nothing else but.

He broke another yesterday out in St. Louis where he hit his 14th homer for the month of July—more four-ply smacks in a month's time than ever were smashed before in the history of modern baseball. In 1921 during June he hit 13 homers.

The Babe is away on a merry chase after his season home run record. He is nine round trips ahead of where he was last year, but five behind where he was at this time in 1921.

It would not be a bit surprising to see Ruth catch up and pass himself, as you might say, along about mid-September and make a new record of sixty or more home runs for the season. It would be hard to evince surprise if this amazing young man should step up and bat the Woolworth building over into Jersey.

Anything is conceivable with the Babe, except that he should fail to astonish us once in a while.

Incidentally he might lead the league in batting as well as in home runs and runs driven in and a few other things, although the chances are that if he chooses to go after a new mark for homers he will have to sacrifice something.
